

peoplescdc.org

People's
CDC

FIGHT FASCISM

At People's CDC, we have watched in dismay as governments and corporations slash funding for programs that keep people housed, fed, and vaccinated; cut programs that track and control the spread of diseases; dismantle lifesaving research. They claim, "There's not enough money for that," yet they find billions for war, policing, and projects that make themselves and their friends richer. (This didn't start with MAGA, btw.)

We're taught success comes through individualism. But when we share the same planet, the same air, the same future, we have to act together. As fascism grows, we must reject the lie that we succeed or fail alone.

We have to create systems within our communities, while building different forms of governance that prioritize everybody's wellbeing.

That means collectively enacting basic public health measures to stop deadly, disabling diseases like COVID-19 and measles: Wear high-quality masks, especially in crowded spaces. Stay home when sick if you can. Open windows. Use air purifiers to clean indoor air. Build support networks—check on sick neighbors, show up for all children, for disabled and elderly community members.

And we must organize! Unionize. Demand paid sick leave in our contracts. Win universal healthcare.

You are all too precious, the world's riches too vast, and the future too open to leave anyone behind. So rest, dream, adapt, stay in the fight. Join us in building a new future – a new public health – together.

peoplescdc.org

People's
CDC

FIGHT FASCISM

At People's CDC, we have watched in dismay as governments and corporations slash funding for programs that keep people housed, fed, and vaccinated; cut programs that track and control the spread of diseases; dismantle lifesaving research. They claim, "There's not enough money for that," yet they find billions for war, policing, and projects that make themselves and their friends richer. (This didn't start with MAGA, btw.)

We're taught success comes through individualism. But when we share the same planet, the same air, the same future, we have to act together. As fascism grows, we must reject the lie that we succeed or fail alone.

We have to create systems within our communities, while building different forms of governance that prioritize everybody's wellbeing.

That means collectively enacting basic public health measures to stop deadly, disabling diseases like COVID-19 and measles: Wear high-quality masks, especially in crowded spaces. Stay home when sick if you can. Open windows. Use air purifiers to clean indoor air. Build support networks—check on sick neighbors, show up for all children, for disabled and elderly community members.

And we must organize! Unionize. Demand paid sick leave in our contracts. Win universal healthcare.

You are all too precious, the world's riches too vast, and the future too open to leave anyone behind. So rest, dream, adapt, stay in the fight. Join us in building a new future – a new public health – together.